

40. Parents should teach their children not to drop t in the street. They should show them where bins for waste are.
41. I didn't pay much for the car because it wasn't new. Actually, it was c.
42. This is a huge factory. They employ a a of more than five hundred. Mr Clark retired last month. Alice has been in g of the accounting department ever since.
44. The man will be considered guilty n he presents an alibi. We arrived too late. All the rooms in the hotels had already been o so we had to sleep in the open air.
46. The Washington Post is not a magazine. It's a y.
47. No cars or other vehicles are allowed in the city centre. This is an area only for p.
48. On hot days, we let our kids put up a n in the garden and sleep in it at night.
49. Our neighbour is a w. His wife died two years ago.
50. As a vet, Mrs Dove knows how to look after both wild and m animals.
51. Yesterday was my c day. My car was stolen and I lost all my documents. Then, I couldn't get into my flat as I forgot my entry code.
52. Little children are usually very r about everything. They ask thousands of questions some of which are really hard to answer.
53. Although we haven't seen each other for more than a year, we still keep in n. We talk on the phone at least once a week.
54. Amazingly, the Browns are very well off although Mrs Brown doesn't work at all. Her husband is sure to earn a good l each month.
55. g to the latest forecast, it's going to be another stormy night. It wasn't easy to get a ticket for the final game. I had to stand in a long e from early morning.
57. Could you speak up, please. We can r hear what you're saying at the back of the hall.
58. My husband sings in a church i. He's a baritone.
59. The jewellery stolen from the window display was worth nothing. It wasn't genuine. It was f.

hundreds of people every been learning it for six ing is.
 manding. For me, it's didn't have any hair at all.
 of the natural
 mals kept in captivity.
s. Some of atest s of every n of
 to each other.
 day. I still have it in my like his expensive as platinum.
 rritated, if you come too
 ause its ornamented